

ALISE

Aluminum reflectors in three different sizes with premium light quality for any track- or downlight luminaires. Suitable also for UV-C applications.

ALISE reflectors are made from aluminum and share the same clean and consistent look and beam variants throughout the entire product family. They have high heat resistance and offer premium light quality for any track- or downlight luminaires. With a wide range of compatible connectors and LEDiL original accessories, they are the most up-to-date reflector offering available.
